

Community Radio as Peacebuilder

Nepal Experiences

नकीं उेी नकीं स
क तण ष । तनस । तं उ

Department of Media Sciences

Anna University, Chennai

Community Radios cannot just confine itself to development aspects without taking issues brought to the fore by the conflict

Community radio initiatives have to take conflict-based issues as well

As a peacebuilder, Community Radio can:

1

1. Involve community radio workers in the process of sustainable peace by galvanising them in effective peacebuilding measures

2

2. Encourage conflict affected population to take part in the process of peacebuilding

3

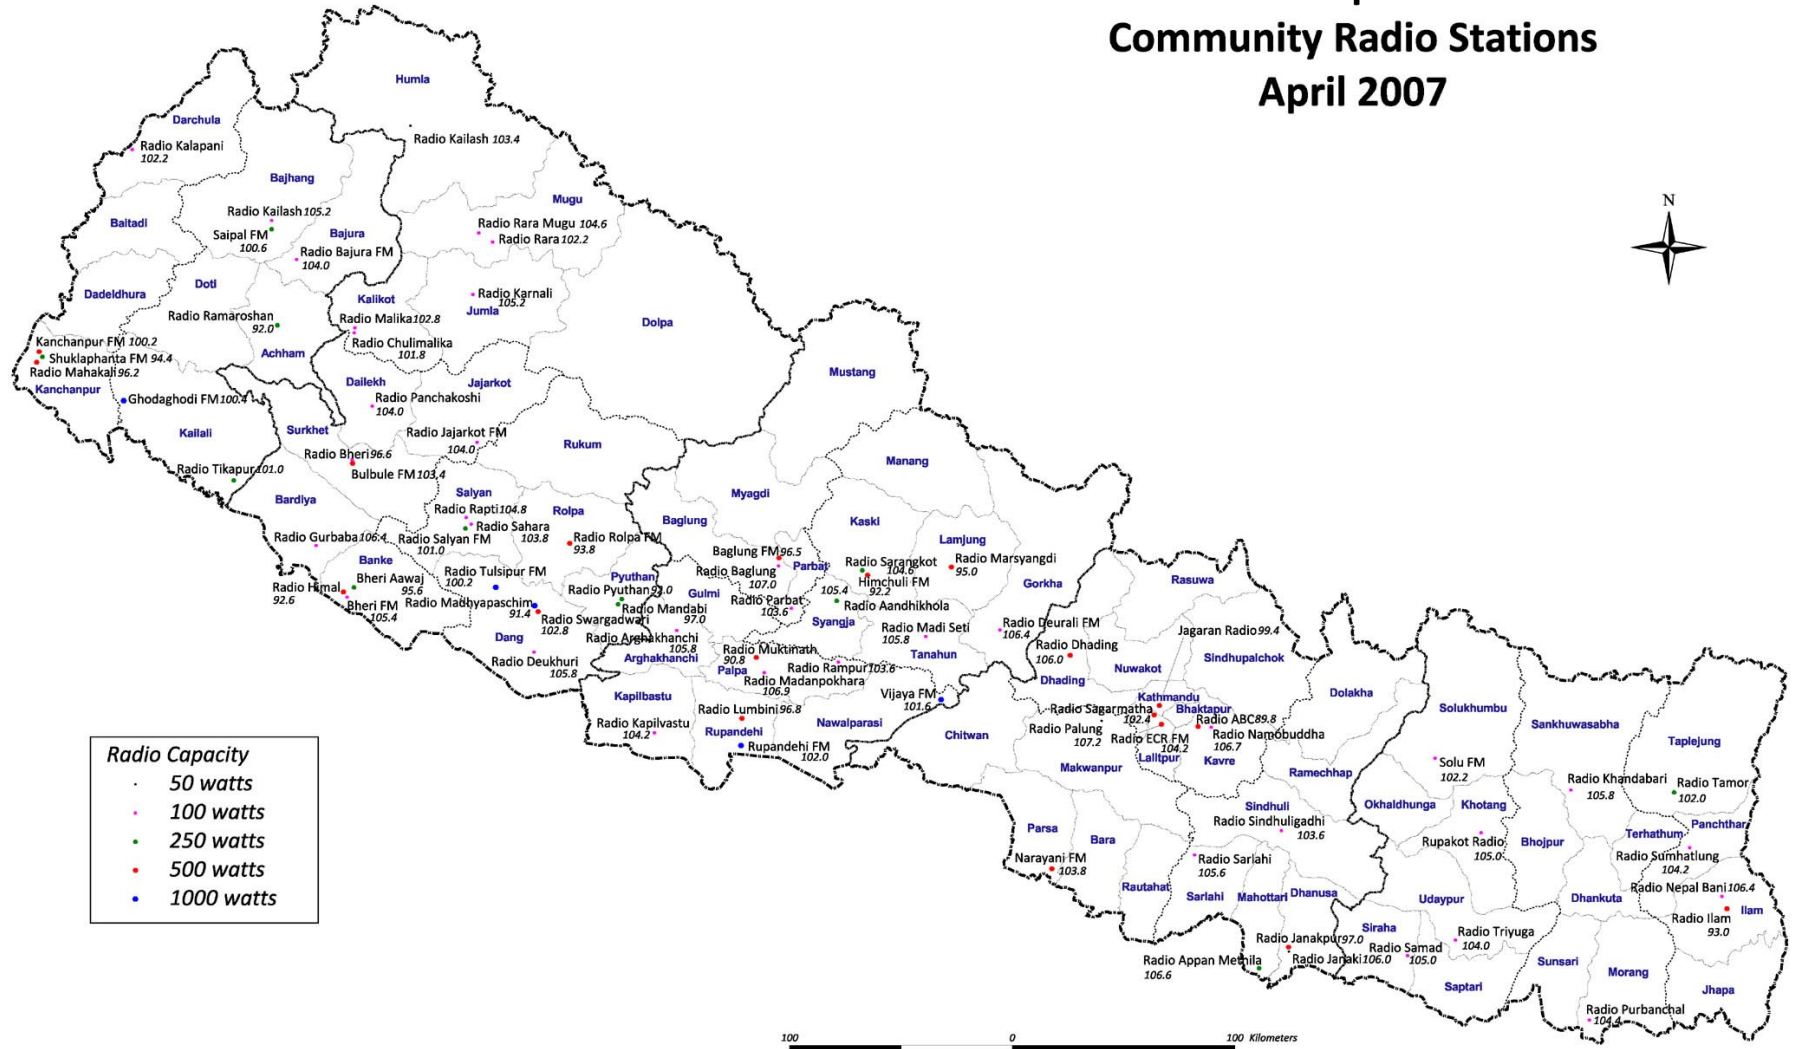

3. Make and broadcast programmes directly related to strengthen the ongoing peacbuilding as a process of nation-building

4

4. Promote possible outreach activities such as community radio workers as peace volunteers, peace monitors or human rights defenders to extend expert services

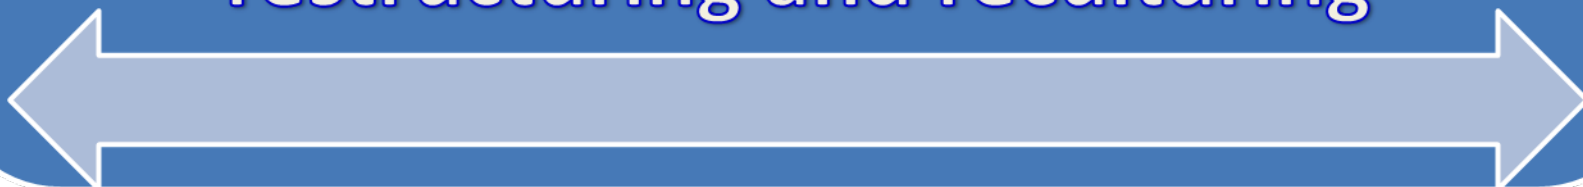

Community Radios for sustainable Peace in

Nepal Community Radio Stations April 2007

Community radios – through dialogue, inclusiveness, participation, and the bottom-up approach -- decide, steer and implement the social, economic, political, and other steps including restructuring and reculturing

Thank

sudhamshu.dahal@yahoo.com

you